

Speak Up: Using Primary Sources to Engage Students

A Professional Development Workshop

offered by the S.C. Historical Society spring & summer 2017

- Tailored for South Carolina social studies teachers
- Supported by a Teaching with Primary Sources grant from the Library of Congress

Goals of this Workshop

- Increase access to and use of primary sources in the classroom
- Establish best practices for teaching with primary sources
- Participants will create their own lesson plans that will be included on a new website dedicated to South Carolina in the Revolution

For More Information

- Visit our webpage: <http://schistory.org/explore/education/teaching-with-primary-sources-workshop/>
- To book this free workshop, contact SCHS Education Coordinator Ashley Darland at ashley.darland@schsonline.org