Waring family papers, 1707-1989 (bulk 1886-1979) SCHS# 300.00

Creator: Waring family.

Description: 11.75 linear ft.

Biographical/historical note: George Seabrook Legare (1870-1913) farmed Old Town Plantation in Charleston County, S.C., and was a member of Congress representing the First District of South Carolina. His son, William S. Legare, was a Charleston, S.C. attorney and state legislator. George S. Legare's daughter Ferdinanda ("Ferdie") married William B. Backer and had three children. After William B. Backer's death, she married Dr. Joseph I. Waring of Charleston, S.C., a physician and medical historian. Dr. Waring was the son of Joseph Ioor Waring, Sr. (1860-1925) and Emma Thomson Taber Waring.

Scope and content: This collection consists of clippings, correspondence, genealogical material, writings, and other items. Included are papers of Joseph I. Waring, Sr., Dr. Joseph I. Waring, Dorothy T. Waring, Ferdinanda Legare Waring, George S. Legare, and William S. Legare, as well as papers of the Legare and Backer families and other related families.

Waring family documents (1707-1973; bulk 1845-1909) consist of clippings; genealogical material, including records (1839-1863) of the births and deaths of slaves of Thomas R. Waring (1819-1871); miscellaneous items including a slave bill of sale (1845); and papers pertaining to the related families of Blacklock, Freer, Garden, Hayne, Holmes, and Taber. Among the papers pertaining to the Garden family are guardianship records (1853-1871) for Susan S. Garden and Thomasina B. Garden, which include lists of slaves and slave bills of sale. There is also an account (1862) of sales of slaves belonging to the estate of Willam A. Hayne. Blacklock family papers include genealogical information on the Blacklock and Freer families.

Papers (1889-1924) of Joseph I. Waring, Sr. (1860-1925) consist of correspondence (1895-1924), much of which relates to his genealogical and historical interests; genealogical notes and writings, mostly about the Waring family; miscellaneous items including scrapbooks, and autograph books; and writings including Gullah folk tales, historical accounts, and poems.

Papers (1907-1985) of Dorothy T. Waring (sister of Dr. Joseph I. Waring) consist of correspondence; estate records, including papers relating to the estates of Anne P. Waring and Emma Thomson Taber Waring; extensive genealogical research and notes on the families of Taber, Thomson, Waring, Yeamans, and other related families; lists of possessions; papers relating to 133 Broad Street in Charleston (S.C.); and information on Waring family miniatures and portraits.

Backer family papers include a small amount of material pertaining to William B. Backer, first husband of Ferdinanda Legare (later Mrs. J.I. Waring), and papers of their children, William M. Backer, Georgette Backer, and Ferdinan (Nancy) Backer (later Nancy Stevenson). Papers (1930-1949) of William M. Backer include childhood writings, programs for musical comedies and other productions, and school memorabilia and writings. Papers (1937-1989) of Nancy Stevenson chiefly consist of clippings and political papers, including campaign literature and speeches (1974-1976).

Note: Photographs have been removed to the SCHS photograph collection. See inventory beginning on page 7 of finding aid.

Preferred citation: Waring family. Waring family papers, 1707-1989 (bulk 1886-1979). (300.00) South Carolina Historical Society.
