Biographical/historical note: Benjamin Perry (1803-1857) was a plantation owner of St. Paul's Parish, S.C., and a South Carolina state legislator and secretary of state. He married Jane Bolton Johnston (died 1834) in 1824. Their children were A.S.J. Perry, Agnes Ewing Perry, and Isaac Perry. Benjamin Perry's second wife was Sarah Freer Waring, the widow of Jeremiah J. Miles, and their children included Jane Waring Perry, who married James Poyas Gibbs, Martha Waring Perry, who married Henry Poyas Foster, and Richard Waring Perry. A.S.J. (Archibald Simpson Johnston) Perry was a partner in the Charleston, S.C. firm of Johnston, Crews & Co. His son J. Lamb Perry was a businessman and lawyer who practiced in Charleston.

Scope and content: Papers of Archibald S.J. Perry and his son J. Lamb Perry form the main portion of this collection, much of which is concerned with Perry family properties in Summerville (Dorchester County, S.C.) and surrounding areas. Perry family documents include correspondence, estate records, wills, financial records, and miscellaneous items. Family property records and muniments (some oversize) date as early as 1784 and include a lease to Daniel Stewart of land at Beech Hill; a release of dower (1793), Sarah Stewart to Thomas Smith, regarding Beech Hill [Plantation]; and a mortgage (1794), Evan Tumbleston to John Ernest Poyas, on Beech Hill. Early 19th century documents include a conveyance (1825), Thomas Swift to John B. Bivens, of land in St. Paul's Parish; a conveyance (1826) of "Harrietville on Beech Hill" to Henry and Elias B. Scott; a mortgage (1827), Benjamin Perry to George H. Smith, on a tract in St. George Dorchester Parish; a plat (1829) of "Harrietville on Beech Hill in St. Paul's and partly in St. George's Parish;" and a bond (1831) to Col. Richard Perry concerning land "situate near line of St. Georges and St. Pauls Parish." Among other property records are documents relating to later conveyances of these properties and Perry family property in Summerville (S.C.). Persons represented include Thomas R. Waring, Joseph Tucker, and John Gadsden. Early 20th century documents include a title abstract naming "Harriotville or Scott tract," "Beach Forest," "Roslin," "Waring tract," and "Carnes"; a deed abstract for a house and lots in Summerville sold to R.B. Cuthbert; and a blueprint plat (1914) of "Scott's plantation." Other Perry family papers include a journal (1807-1814) for Roslin Plantation containing slave lists, cotton and rice accounts, and a planting diary for 1813 and 1814; and an agreement (1827) between Benjamin Perry and George H. Smith concerning a moiety on a tract called Bacon's Bridge and expenses for the operation of the schooner Planter.

Slave records include a mortgage (1837) on five slaves (named in record), J.H. Waring to Sarah F. Miles; and a mortgage (1860), Joseph Hall Waring to A.S. J. Perry, on slaves. Also, a number of family wills mention slaves, notably that of Richard Perry, who bequeathed slaves to the daughters of "the free woman Mary" (1858).

Papers (1857-1894) of Archibald S.J. Perry are chiefly family and business correspondence and business and financial records. Included is a stock certificate (1863) for shares in the Magnetic Iron Co. of South Carolina. Some records pertain to the firm of Johnston, Crews & Co.
